

Dev Notes

To begin, we will make our static page like home, about us, contact us, faqs, sign up and sign in; after the user signs in, they will be prompted to choose a profile, after that we will make the chosen profile page give the user access to their profile (kids or parent) then we will display three panels, the first named movies, then TV shows, and last will be music. All the pages will be built using html, css/sass and vueJS to make our page dynamic, after that we will link our static pages to a database (mysql DB) using php scripting language and ajax to send data from front to backend.
